

PRIMARIES

What is the difference between a primary and a general election?

- In a primary election the members of each party nominate candidates of their party for the general election. Voters may vote for candidates in one party only. Also conducted are nonpartisan primaries where the list of candidates exceeds more than twice the number to be elected.
- In a general election all voters elect officials from the party nominees and independent candidates. They also elect candidates in nonpartisan races. Voters may vote for candidates in more than one party.

How do I establish which party's ballot I am entitled to vote when participating in a partisan primary?

- You may vote the primary ballot of any political party but vote for candidates of one political party only. If you vote in more than one partisan section of the ballot, the partisan ballot will be rejected.
- Under Michigan Law you do not have to make a party choice until you enter the voting station.

You may vote by absentee ballot if you:

- Expect to be absent from the community in which registered for the entire time the polls are open on election day.

- Have been appointed an election precinct inspector in a precinct other than the precinct where you reside.

Then What?

- The first step in casting a ballot involves entering your name, current address, and date of birth on an Application to Vote form.
- Inspectors then compare your birthdate and address with the information on the registration list.
- You must also comply with Michigan's voter identification requirement by showing acceptable picture identification or signing an affidavit.

Instructions for marking ballots.

- Detailed instructions for the proper method of casting your vote are posted in each precinct. If additional help is needed, ask the election inspectors.

What can I do if I spoil my ballot?

- If you tear, soil, or erroneously mark a ballot, you may return it to the precinct officials and another ballot will be given to you. Before you return the spoiled ballot, be sure to conceal any mark you have made on it.

Can a voter ever receive assistance in voting?

- Two election inspectors (Michigan Law) who have expressed an affiliation for different political parties may assist any voter who requests assistance.
- Any voter who requires assistance to vote because of blindness, physical disability or inability to read or write may be given assistance by any person of the voter's choice (Federal Law). The person assisting cannot be the voter's employer, officer of voter's union or an agent of either.

Accessibility for voters who are disabled

- Federal Law requires that every precinct be made accessible to voters who are disabled and all persons over 60 years of age.
- A specially equipped voting station is available for use by voters who are disabled. The voting station permits voters who are disabled to vote independently without the assistance of another person.

A Michigan resident who is serving a sentence in jail or prison after conviction cannot vote during his or her period of confinement.
